

There's reference to an undiscovered tomb in my father's notes. I need your help to find it.

The key to locating it lies within an ancient code. Unfortunately for us, it's been broken up in pieces.

You'll need to keep your wits about you and collect the pieces from unknown landmarks around the world.

My father's company, Croft Holdings, will provide intel to help locate each landmark. Check out my Field Notes or @CroftHoldingsAU on Facebook for everything they have.

Each landmark you uncover will give you an extra chance to win a Cape Town adventure for two worth $15,000.

For those that find the tomb, extra riches await. Including 20 bonus entries into the main prize, as well as the chance to win a luxurious private screening of Tomb Raider for you and 10 friends.
